REBELS WANT TO FREE PRISONERS OF FEDERALS

are 350 rebels in this vicinity under command of Oscar G. Creighton. The main body is expected to arrive at Pearson late tonight. (Tuesday) and the mobilization of the entire rebel force, said to be nearly 3000 men, will occur as soon as possible. There was much delay in transporting the force from Madera on the Pacific coast to Pearson.
Scouts have been sent out to locate Egula Lis, and to be ready to make a definite report to the board of strategy as soon as it arrives tonight. Contrary to his usual custom, Creighton, "the railway buster," is making every effort to protect the railway. This is but further indication that the tracks are to be used for some troop movement north, and that no fear is held of a movement of federal troops from Ciudad Juarez.

The men who burned the bridge north of Casas Grandes are believed to be a small band recruited in El Paso, and on its way south.

No announcement is made that Juarez will be attacked, but every indication signifies that it will be attacked.
The task of rescuing the prisoners held by the federals is to be undertaken first.

An American Insurrecto of Creighton's command writes a friend in El Paso to expect him within four days.

A Mexican woman living in Ciudad Juarez, who has two sons with Madero's command has received a letter from one of her boys which tells the mother to expect her sons before Sunday next.

An El Paso Mexican woman who has a son in Orozco's army, says he has sent word that he will see her by Monday.

day night.

The meeting was called to order by president M. L. Burson, and after a reading of the minutes by secretary A.
L. Conover, and the report of treasurer W. E. Casteel, resolutions were read by Mrs. Bertha Ford, congratulating Mr.
Smith upon his appointment as post-

HOUSE PASSES THE RUCKER RESOLUTION

Speaker Clark Calls Economy Conference For Saturday.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The house of representatives by a vote of 298 to 16, passed the Rucker resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for the direct election of United States senators. This is the first of the Democratic program measures passed by the house in the last three months. The resolution provides that without modification and with a speed that brought protests from the Republicans.

The resolution, as the house approved it, is in the form of a Borah resolution reported out by the senate judiciary committee in the closing days of the last congress.

Republican opposition to the Rucker resolution in the house was based on the fact that it did not contain the changes afterward made in the fight in the senate, which assured to congress continued control over elections in the several states.

System is to mark the searching inquiry into expenditures in the government departments.

Speaker Champ Clark has called for a conference for Saturday between two chairmen of the nine departmental committees at which a comprehensive plan will be mapped out whereby during the summer a campaign will be conducted with a view to presenting to the Democratic house, when it convenes in December, full facts and figures as to economics that may be put in force.

Democratic leaders hope to be able to offset the loss in revenues through tariff reductions by saving in the operation of the government's vast machinery.

They are convinced that there are many positions that are entirely useless and others that could be consolidated. Tophers and figures as to economics that may be put in force.
